

respect the village; I thought it my duty to pay a visit there - and should be sorry if on my account any ill feelings were roused.

We shall be very glad, when it is all over.

Believe me

Yours very truly

Folkestone -

1890

Pembroke Arms
Wilton

2. 7. 92.

Dear General Pitt Rivers -

I have never written to you to apologise for not having called at Rushmore when we were at Dollard. I hope you will forgive me - as I have been overwhelmed with business.

We did not know you were at home till too late to call - or we should have done so. We were most comfortable at the Inn at Farnham, and had everything we wanted there.
I was very sorry we had not time to see the museum thoroughly - but we saw enough to make us very eager to go there again - I hope at no distant period.

I was particularly interested in the models of the excavations, over which I have many times heedlessly ridden. Key John's house interested us very much but I confess the museum was the center of interest to me. I hope our visit to Dollard did not in any