GODALMING.

Dear General Pitt Rivers

Thank you very much indeed for your great kindness about the plough. I have sent on the drawings to Mr Pomeroy and he tells me that he had suspended operations and taken a rest so that the fresh light has come down in time for him to give fresh thought to it.

We have been having some interesting local drift implements in the last year or two from Farnham Gravels and I hear that Mr Mangles of Hampton Common has been finding them also in the gravels south of Hogsback, near Elstead

our local drainage works produced some interesting finds of Rhinoceros and Elephant-teeth at the foot of our hill in the slopes on the north side of the river valley - washed out of the hill above and lying in twenty feet depth of sand

Believe me yours gratefully
