Miss Gwyn Jeffreys presents her compliments to General Pitt-Rivers and begs to thank him for his note received this morning. Last week she gave the order to an experienced man who will carry the staircase safely to General Pitt-Rivers' house. The price Miss Gwyn Jeffreys put upon

The Statuette was 10 £; she hopes some day in the Autumn General Pitt-Rivers will allow her to clean the Statuette a little for she feels sure it must have become dirty being at the Academy
