Dear Augustus -

Edith is in London & I saw her yesterday looking very bright. The 29th of this month is the day fixed for the wedding - & I shall be right glad to see Edith settled. she can be ruled through her heart - never by the head - Of course Lord Fitzwilliam will not settle anything, until the debts are settled - Poor little Louie has given a thousand her Uncle Fairfax & Mr. Percroft gave their consent reluctantly, but it is placed in the hands of the lawyer, for the debts only - do we hope it is all for the best

The Fitzwilliams are such a worthy family their influence may be everything to the lovely Edith I am only waiting in this deadly climate for this event to come off - then fly south - for warmth & health -

Believe me
Yours affec^{to}
